FAMOUS McGILL PROFESSOR RECEIVES ANOTHER HONOUR

Dr. Leacock Will be Principal Speaker at Great Gathering of American Educationalists

A signal honor has just been paid to our genial and popular professor of Political Science, Dr. Stephen Leacock. He has been invited to deliver the principal address at a Convention of all the educationalists of the State of Vermont, to be held at the University of Vermont on Thursday and Friday of next week. As one of the most brilliant students that has ever passed through the Graduate School of the University of Chicago, and subsequently by reason of his well merited fame both as a lecturer and an author, Dr. Leacock has indeed established an enviable reputation. Of the invitations which are showered upon him, it is possible for him to accept but a few, and the University of Vermont is indeed lucky in securing him to speak on "The Future of Democracy."

Relations between McGill and the University of Vermont have always been particularly friendly, and several of our professoriate, Dr. John MacRae and others of the Medical Faculty, have been intermittent lecturers at the American institution. At the installation there of a new college president last autumn, Principal Peterson and Dr. Leacock were among the guests of honor. Since his appointment, Dr. Guy Potter Benton has carried out an active policy of extension, and has engendered in his associates an optimism which augurs well for the future of the greatest university in the State of Vermont.

It is to be hoped that the pleasant associations already formed will ripen, and that they may extend to the two undergraduate bodies as well. It is not inconceivable that universities so closely related to each other geographically should arrange for some system of Inter-University competition of either an athletic or academic nature.

STUDENTS' COUNCIL MAKES PLANS FOR WEDNESDAY'S BIG MEETING

Reports Few and Short—Basis of Daily May be Changed—Universal Fee Again Discussed

The last meeting of the Students' Council considered several questions of great importance, which necessitated a session of unusual duration.

The first matter to engage the attention of the Councillors was the manner in which the Annual Meeting of the Stuhents' Society on Wednesday morning should be conducted. It was the opinion of the members that unwieldy, conventional, itemized reports should be minimized inasmuch as they only serve to weary the audience and fail to give any comprehensive idea as to what the various clubs and organizations have been accomplishing. In this connection, too, it was deemed advisable to incorporate as many reports as possible in the President's survey of the year. The matter was finally settled by a resolution to the effect that three formal reports be presented as follows:

The address of President Ramsey, which will include the Alma Mater Dance, Vaudeville Night, Theatre Night, etc.; the report on Athletics by Mr. Dan P. Gillmor; and the report on the McGill Daily by Treasurer Mr. W. E. G. Murray. It is understood that these reports will be short and to the point. The amount of time saved by curtailing the number and length of formal statements will be well spent in general discussion on items of business, the settlement of which may effect great changes in undergraduate organizations and their relation to one another.

First and foremost will come the proposed changes in the Constitution of the Students' Council and its relationship to athletics. These changes are outlined in another column. They are the result of considerable committee work and they aim at readjusting and reconstituting the executive of the Students' Society. It is felt in certain quarters that athletics have undue representation on the Council and this scheme has been devised to reduce the athletic representatives to three, and the Council to nine members. In the same proposal there are involved other changes of almost equal consequence.

The Theatre Night problem will come up for discussion. The present executive of the Students' Society has placed itself on record as favoring the substitution of Vaudeville Night. The experience of frequent deficits and the danger of unnecessary damages are the chief factors in impelling the Council's recommendation.

The Daily was the subject of considerable discussion at the Council meeting. In the light of this year's experience, the present management strongly advises a change in the manner of conducting the Daily. Instead of having it directly under the Council, it is proposed to separate the financial responsibility and place it on a "profit-sharing" basis. With this object in view, the Board has been in correspondence with leading American university dailies, and has come to the conclusion that such a change is almost necessary if the paper is to improve and to pay for itself permanently. Before going into the actual working out of the details of a new constitution for the paper, the Board sought a ruling from the Council as to whether or not they were in favor of the principle of the change. After some discussion, the Council approved the principle on condition that the financial statement of the Daily, to be issued on Wednesday, will justify the move. A committee of four was appointed to look into the position of the Daily and to report later as to the advisability of the proposed change.

The universal fee proposal was again taken up and heartily endorsed. It was felt that if the Daily were to be taken out of the hands of the Union financially and placed on a profit sharing basis it would not be fair to include any considerable part of its subscription rate in the new compulsory fee. It was also felt that it would be unwise to stipulate the exact items which various clubs under the head of the Students' Society shall receive. Responsibility for equable distribution might well be left in the hands of the Council. It was decided to have the Councillors interview members of Corporation individually to impress them with the importance and advisability of the universal fee project.

The Committee on athletic supplies submitted its report to the Council. This is published in another column of to-day's issue. After considering the recommendations the Council recommended their adoption in future on condition that the Council's financial condition would allow.

NEW YORK GRADS HOLD SEVENTEENTH ANNUAL BANQUET

Dr. Adami Reviews Feature of the Present Session Before Manhattan Alumni

New York, N.Y., March 2—(Special Correspondence)—More than fifty members of the McGill Graduates' Society of New York gathered at the Cafe des Beaux Arts, last night, to celebrate the seventeenth anniversary of their organization. The guest of honour was no less a celebrity than Dr. J. G. Adami, McGill's world-renowned Professor of Pathology. His appearance was greeted with a resounding "What's the Matter With Old McGill," which for qualities of lung property and euphony was quite the equal of any undergraduate effort. The Society had expected the presence of Dr. James Douglas, the oldest living McGill graduate who contributed so handsomely to the recent campaign fund. Unfortunately at the last moment he found it impossible to come. Dr. Andrew H. Montgomery represented the graduates of Toronto University and Dr. Robert G. Moore represented Queen's. Their entry was the signal for loud and prolonged cheering for their respective Alma Maters. Other distinguished guests of the evening were Dr. Geo. D. Stewart, Professor of Ana-

RIVAL CANDIDATES EXPRESS OPINIONS ON LOCAL TOPICS

Messrs. Sargent and MacNaughton Give Final Interview to the Daily

On being interviewed by the Daily representative, Mr. John McNaughton expressed his attitude as being substantially the same as that published in a previous issue. Mr. McNaughton promised, if elected to the Presidency of the Council, to endeavor to fill that position to the best of his ability.

Mr. McNaughton's platform, it will be remembered, advocated the universal fee for the Union, the supplying of uniforms to athletes, and paid coaches for the major athletics. On this last point Mr. McNaughton was very strong and takes as his watchword "The football championship for 1912."

His attitude regarding the Editor of the "Daily" is that as long as he is appointed by the Council he could not be a member of that body. If it were possible to change the appointment of the Editor, so that he could be approved by the general student body, having been nominated by the editor, or the editorial board, his presence would be welcomed on the Council. As matters stand at present the Editor should not be on the Council, but should be in close touch with it.

Regarding the present constitution of the Council, Mr. McNaughton does not think the athletic representation is too great.

Questioned as to theatre night Mr. McNaughton was very strongly in favor of retaining the present plan. Theatre night has come to be looked on as one of the annual functions of the University, and there is no reason why it cannot be successfully conducted. Regarding the annual vaudeville show, he offered a suggestion to the effect that a play be substituted for the present vaudeville. If possible some form of student production should be maintained, as it offers an excellent vent for student talent.

"Bert" Sargent, when interviewed by a Daily representative, endorsed his previous views regarding Council affairs. Mr. Sargent favours very strongly the universal fee and the employment of a paid coach for football affairs. Greater athletic activity is a strong plank in Bert's platform and he declares that nothing should prevent McGill from putting the strongest possible team on the field.

Regarding the supplying of uniforms to university teams. Mr. Sargent's views are those of the Committee whose report is printed elsewhere. Mr. Sargent was convener of this committee and as such is in favor of the proposition.

The present plan of theatre night is, however, opposed by Mr. Sargent. He considers that a restitution for it should be made in the form of the present Vaudeville Night, or some similar student presentation.

His opinion regarding the proposed amendments to the Students' Council is that the present system is quite satisfactory, and that nothing should be done to unduly complicate the representation. If elected Mr. Sargent will do all in his power for the honour and advancement of Old McGill.

FOURTH ANNUAL PARTY OF HALL RESIDENTS

Strathcona Hall residents, on last Thursday night, held their fourth annual skating party and dance. The patronesses were Miss Hurlbatt, Miss Cartwright, Mrs. Brown and Mrs. McDonald. The evening was quite informal and enjoyed by all present. After a short gathering at Strathrona Hall, the party proceeded to the Campus Rink, where the first half of the programme was gone through. Five bands were skated, music being furnished by the [illegible] spaghetti.

The second portion of the evening was spent at the Union. In this case the music was furnished by A. R. Brown, assisted very ably by a Boy Scout bugler. In this case 10 dances, 3 extras, and one extra extra were danced. Special comment must be made not only on the music but on the very excellent supper, provided by the Castle Blend Tea Co.

The entire affair was a complete success and great credit is due to the committee in charge. The success of this year's function augurs well for those in the years to come. About seventy-five couples unite in thanking the following committee for a most pleasant evening, Messrs. A. Stalker, W. T. Sutherland, D. A. S. Bell, J. A. Legris and C. Pitts.

Proposed Amendments to Constitution

Wednesday's meeting of the Students' Society will decide a question of unusual importance. An issue which has been impending for some time will come to a definite head. The movement which resulted last fall in the addition of the President of the Athletic Association to the Students' Council gave the initial impetus to a counter-movement which had as its object the curtailing of athletic representation on the Council. This counter-movement was assisted by a feeling in certain quarters that the number of councillors should be cut down to nine again. The result of all this was that the Council appointed a special committee to look into the matter and make recommendations. The forthcoming recommendations are summarized in today's issue. They will be discussed and decided upon at Wednesday's meeting. Meanwhile it will be necessary to analyze the proposals and the effects which they involve.

* * * * *

In so far as the proposed amendments will definitely settle the relationship between the Council and the Athletic Association, they are to be heartily endorsed. It is not so very long ago since there was open war between the Alma Mater Society and the Athletic Association. The elements of friction were partly dispelled when the constitution of the Council included the three presidents of major sports on the general executive. There was, however, a certain indefiniteness about the existing relationship and herein rested the germs of misunderstanding and deadlock. At last we have a proposal which will effectually dispel any such indefiniteness and which will draw a clear-cut line between the functions and prerogatives to be exercised by the two main student executives.

* * * * *

The proposal to alter the method of athletic representation and to curtail the number of athletic representatives is very debatable. In the first place, it is by no means well established that athletics are at present over-represented. Undoubtedly athletics are by far the most important branch of student activity. They are of general interest, and their welfare is bound up in the general welfare of the student body. Taken collectively, they utterly overshadow all other student enterprises combined. And what is of even greater moment in determining the present issue is that ATHLETICS ARE RAPIDLY GAINING IN PRESTIGE AND RELATIVE IMPORTANCE. Any legislation seriously affecting the position of athletics should be undertaken only after the most careful consideration.

* * * * *

The committee's report reveals a desire to maintain a distinction between major and minor sports and to give each a certain representation. The idea of depriving the presidents of the Football, Hockey and Track Clubs of their places on the Council hardly meets with our favor. It is difficult to see in what way the unduly complicated proposal will be a positive improvement on the present arrangement. The presidents of the major clubs are surely the best fitted to represent their clubs. To degrade their positions into sinecure petty executive posts may well be regarded as retrogressive. Then again, under the new system, one of the major sports is certain to be unrepresented on the Council. In view of what all three major sports have accomplished during the past season, and particularly two of them, it standing. It will be contended of course that the "big-M" seems inopportune to attempt to affect their influence and regulation in the case of the two vice-presidents will represent two major sports as well as at present. It is not difficult, however, to see clearly that the proposed change would deprive the clubs in question of DIRECT OFFICIAL REPRESENTATION. This would work both ways—the dignity and prestige of the Council would be as much affected as the status of the major clubs.

* * * * *

Before the student body decided to reconstruct its executive and to seriously alter the status of athletics, it should give the most careful attention to the various issues involved. The committee gave the matter long consideration and its opinions will carry great weight, having as it does the approval of the Council. This is, however, a problem to be decided individually, and personal opinion will naturally be a big factor in determining the issue.

Regular Boxing, Wrestling and Fencing Tournament Scheduled

The McGill wrestling, boxing and fencing clubs will meet the M.A.A.A. on Saturday next in the second annual city championship tournament.

Those who were present at the first of the series last year can give testimony to the fact that the contest was a first-class exhibition throughout. The rivalry and spirit of wholesome sportsmanship were commented upon by all present.

The competition on Saturday should be of unusual interest because of the keen ambition of the M.A.A.A. to get even with McGill.

CORRESPONDENCE

W. E. G. Murray,
Editor of McGill Daily.

Dear Sir:—I should like through the medium of your columns to draw attention to certain phases of the proposed amendments to the constitution of the Students' Society as set forth in the report of the Committee recently appointed by the present Council. The most radical of these proposed amendments reads: Art. V. Sec. 2 to be changed as follows—"This executive council shall be composed of nine members as follows: The President of the Students' Society, who shall be chairman, the four Presidents of the Undergraduate Societies, the President of the Union, THE PRESIDENT, FIRST VICE-PRESIDENT AND SECOND VICE-PRESIDENT OF THE ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION.' This, of course, means that the Presidents of the Football, Hockey and Track Clubs will lose their seats on the Council. Whatever may be the purpose of this proposed amendment its effect would clearly be to deprive the afore-mentioned clubs of any direct representation in the Undergraduate Executive. Such a proposal seems peculiarly inopportune at the close of a session which has seen so many athletic honours brought to McGill University by those very clubs whose prestige it seeks to curtail. Now it is well understood that the principal and in fact only important duty of the President of a major athletic club is to represent and to safeguard the interests of that Club in the Students' Council. If this duty is removed these officers will degenerate to the status of mere sinecurial executive posts. I understand that the proposed amendments introduce a stipulation whereby a man must win his senior letter before he may qualify as Vice-President or Second Vice-President of the Athletic Association. The object of this proposal is presumably to insure some sort of representation from the major athletic clubs. As there are three of the latter such a ruling would necessitate at least one of them being left in the lurch each year. It is hard to conceive that any sane executive body could consider so erratic and preposterous a proposal, I am, Sir,

Yours very sincerely,
LOFTUS McINNES.

tomy at Bellevue, one of America's most distinguished medical authorities and the author of several much-quoted anatomical works, and Professor Geo. Kirchwey, Dean of the Faculty of Law at Columbia University.

Dr. Adami in reviewing the events of past session lay special stress upon the opening of new medical buildings, which he characterized as being without an equal on the Continents of America and Europe for up-to-date equipment and appointments. He also drew attention to the splendid and unprecedented success which attended the medical reunion last summer, a celebration at which many of the guests had been present. This reunion, said Doctor Adami, was the dawn of a new era in alumni activities. He commented at some length upon the latest gift of Sir William C. MacDonald, the Molson and Law properties, and of the extensive plans for the erection of dormitories and gymnasium and the laying out of new grounds on these areas. But he waxed most enthusiastic of all when recounting the splendid and somewhat unexpected manner in which the people of Montreal had responded to the University's call for support during the whirlwind million dollar campaign of November last. This campaign, said Dr. Adami, indicated more than any other event of recent years the new attitude which the Canadian people are taking towards higher education. In the case of McGill University especially the enthusiasm and unfailing fidelity of her old students and the increasing generous support of the people among whom she is situated leaves little to fear for her future position among the educational institutions of the English-speaking world.

Dr. Adami referred at some length to the splendid spirit and esprit de corps which exists among the undergraduate body, making special mention of the establishment of a daily student newspaper, the first publication of its kind to be undertaken by any Canadian University. He also mentioned the great efficiency and success which attended undergraduate activities of every kind and in this regard he incidentally commented upon the exceptionally high standard of debate which characterized the Mock Parliament during the past couple of sessions. Dr. Adami expressed himself as highly delighted with the manner in which McGill is coming back to her own in all branches of athletics. Passing on to other topics he said the authorities at McGill desired to copy what was good in the American Universities but he deprecated the tendency in the United States to bring everything down to one level. The absolute and deadly uniformity of the primary and even the advanced school systems of that country would inevitably produce men lacking those qualities of original initiative and imagination without which we cannot look for any radical progress or development. The aim which McGill University had always pursued and would continue to pursue was the cultivation of a broader and more individual spirit. Dr. George D. Stewart was the next speaker. Dr. Stewart is a Nova Scotian by birth and as a Canadian he expressed in no uncertain terms his congratulations and good will towards the leading university of his native land. Dean Kirchwey of Columbia delivered a short, but very pertinent and appreciative address in which he commented upon the desirability of closer relationship between the great educational centres of the two countries. During the course of the evening Dr. Wilfred Nelson, one of the founders of the Society, proposed three cheers for Dr. Osler, who was a class mate of his and who was recently raised to the knighthood. The response indicated the high esteem in which the most distinguished graduate of McGill Medical Faculty is held by his fellow alumni. Towards the conclusion of the evening the proceedings began to wax a trifle hilarious and old McGill songs became very much in order: "Come Fill Your Glasses Up," and "McGill Alma Mater McGill" were especially popular. Henri A.Coussirait, President of the Society, was Chairman for the occasion. The other officers of the Society are: George Massey, the donor of the two scholarships to McGill; State Senator J. Goodfrey Saxe, one of the most rising public men in the States, and a possibility for the Governorship at no far distant date; Dr. Gordon Gibson and Francis G. Wickware.

SEVERAL CHANGES RECOMMENDED IN SYSTEM OF TEAM SUPPLIES

Committee Recommended Supplying all Uniforms Bearing Colours—Distinction Between Majors and Minors

In the event of the adoption of the proposed amendment of the Students' Society, which substitutes the President of the Athletic Association and two other representatives from that body, in place of the Presidents of the Track, Football and Hockey Clubs to represent Athletics on the Students' Council, the following amendment to Article IV. Sec. I. is submitted, to be known as subsection "C."

"Of a first and of a second Vice-President who shall be elected in the same manner as the President. Only such men as have won their first grade Big "M" shall be eligible for these offices."

This will necessitate the change from "Vice-President" to "third Vice-President" in subsection "C" of the present proposed amendment to the constitution of the Athletic Association.

Also Article V. Section 2 must be amended to read:

"Of a First and of a Second Vice-President who shall be representative from the Athletic Association on the Students' Council."

The Students' Council recently appointed a committee to look into the matter of supplying athletes with outfits. The report of this committee was submitted and accepted at the Council meeting on Thursday. A motion was unanimously passed approving of the suggestions and recommending their adoption in future if the Council's finances will allow.

Inasmuch as the report affects a matter of importance we reproduce it in full. The committee was composed as follows: Convener, A. E. Sargent; Graduate Representative, Walter Gordon; Football Representative, G. A. Johnston; Secretary, W. E. G. Wurray.

Students Council,
McGill University.

Gentlemen:—Your committee on supplies for athletic teams has completed its investigation and wishes to place the following recommendations and considerations at your disposal.

An examination of the existing arrangement of supplying athletic outfits disclosed certain inconsistencies which your committee has attempted to remove.

With respect to the principle of equipping athletes who represent the University your committee felt that opinions one way or the other on this point were not pertinent to the issue. The fact that we have to encounter is that the principle of supplying athletic outfits at least in part is so firmly established that it must now be regarded as an institution and any attempt to introduce radical changes would be a serious discouragement to athletics and would meet with widespread disapproval among the undergraduates. Acting on this presumption, then, your committee proceeded to draw up a plan which in uniformity and consistency would be a considerable improvement on the present system.

That the Students' Council should supply uniforms bearing the McGill colors to all recognized teams representing the University was laid down as the first rule on which to work. To apply this principle throughout would require an additional expenditure of $30.00 in the case of the soccer team, $9.00 in the case of the harrier team, and an additional expenditure in the case of the track team which will be considered later in this report. Reasons for this recommendation are sufficiently obvious. Inter-university athletics and the honour of the university require that every representative athlete compete in recognized uniform of his club. Any failure to comply with this is a slur on the University.

The second main principle on which your committee's recommendations are based is that there should be maintained a clean-cut line of distinction between the privileges of major and minor clubs. Once you have supplied all teams with the portion of their equipment bearing McGill colours, it will then be necessary to consider what distinctive privileges are to be granted to the three major clubs. To solve this question in a manner which will be fair and still economical, your committee took considerable pains to gather comparative statistics of the major clubs which are herewith submitted together with the recommendations.

Dealing with each club in order of importance it will be necessary first of all to dispose of the football club. An accurate estimate of the cost of equipping each player with all items specified is herewith submitted. It will be seen that the cost in each case is $21.25. Thus to outfit the Senior aod Intermediate teams representing the University in the Intercollegiate it costs $595.00. Under present arrangements this is being done in every detail. Your committee considered the items separately and came to the conclusion that retrenchment in expenditure so far as the football club outfits are concerned would be ill-advised in the extreme. The legitimate encouragement of efficiency in football and the consequent maintenance of a high average standard are dependent to a great extent on the system of outfitting teams. The only recommendations with respect to the football club deal with the management and as they apply with equal force to all major clubs, they will appear at the end of this report.

The average cost of fully equipping a hockey player is $30.40 as shown in the itemized statement. The present system calls for the supply of everything except gauntlets and skates and boots. Owing to the fact that the cost of skates and boots is disproportionately heavy when it is considered that their use is not confined to regular games and that they cannot be handed from one team to another, your committee is not in favor of supplying them to the hockey club. An increase of expenditure in the matter of supplying gauntlets was, however, deemed advisable.

The track club at present receives no equipment from the Council. The cost of outfitting a track athlete is $7.25. (See Statement). In view of the fact that track shoes may be considered in the same category your committee is not in favor of supplying them to the team under existing financial stringency. To enforce the main principle enunciated above, however, it will only be fair to supply the eighteen members of the track team with uniforms at a cost not in excess of $50.00 (See Statement).

With regard to specific clubs your committee has no further recommendation either for extension or retrenchment. The increase in expenditure under the new system would be as follows:

Football Club	None
Hockey Club	$75.00
Track Club	50.00
Soccer Club	30.00
Harrier Club	9.00
Total	$164.00

GENERAL

In regard to the system employed by the various managements it was felt that a more uniform method should be followed. The present system makes it unduly difficult for the managers to keep in touch with their expenditure. In all fairness to them and to the Council there is a peremptory demand for well-understood rules. The problem can be easily solved by the systematic use of and constant adherence to a system of lockers supplied by the Council. It would also greatly facilitate the management and enable the Council to keep in touch with expenditure if printed forms were supplied to each athlete and duplicates kept by the manager. These forms would afford a means of registering whatever supplies are handed out and would tend towards more uniformity in system and expenditure from year to year. Some numbering arrangement might also be adopted to advantage.

Your committee strongly recommends the maintenance of the present system of attending to all injuries of athletes sustained while representing the university or whole practicing.

Your committee then, Gentlemen, is of the opinion that if the Council's financial status will permit, an additional expenditure of $164.00 is necessary if you are prepared to accept the principles outlined in this report.

Trusting that this will be of assistance in your deliberations, we are,

Yours faithfully,
Committee on Athletic Supplies.

ALUMNI NOTES

Dr. "Jerrie" Waddell, Med '07, has returned for a few weeks to recall the scenes of his undergraduate days. "Jerrie" has been in Mexico since graduation and has been progressing famously in his profession. Besides this, "Jerrie" fought in the wars and has a number of exceedingly interesting reminiscences in connection with the Madero rebellion. Some of these we intend to reproduce before ceasing publication. "Jerrie" was well known as an undergraduate and figured prominently in executive honours. He is the guest of Dr. Lloyd Shannon, Med. '11, popular house physician at the General Hospital.
